Dear Mawuli:

I am sorry I did not get right back to you. The EJ Taskforce meetings are every third Wednesday of the month from 2pm-4pm at the Southeast College and the next one is October 21, 2015. I suggest you review the BAYVIEW IVAN web page at <http://bvhp-ivan.org/> where complaints are lodged online. This is also where, when assigned or taken on online, that the proper entity can post a response. Just click on the "View Reports" and open each one to read the complete complaint and responses.

At the actual meeting, regulatory representatives give updates on assignments (this report out depends on the agenda – see the 9/16 agenda below) and then the meeting is open to receive 'in-person' complaints. The "in-person" complaints may or may not be added to the IVAN web page but generally assigned at the meeting. Below are Lily's general notes from the September 16th. Please don't hesitate to give me a call, if you need further information.

Lily Lee's Notes - September 16, 2015 Bayview EJ Taskforce Meeting:

On September 16, 2015, Jackie Lane and I attended the Bayview EJ Taskforce meeting and the agenda is below. EPA was prepared to report out on the IVAN complaint regarding dust and uncovered trucks from the Hunters Point Naval Shipyard. In addition, we were prepared to report out on the previous "in person" request for EPA involvement regarding dust at Candlestick Park and information on how to file a Title VI complaint. Due to lengthy agenda item discussions and to leave time for public inquiry, we could not report out. We will instead send a written statement later. Lily announced she has placed on the IVAN website contact numbers for herself, Jackie Lane, Derek Thomas, Navy, and Lennar. We also put out flyers about the Navy's 10/24/15 bus site tour and EPA's EJ Civil Rights complaint process. Lennar did not send a representative to the meeting. Karen Cohn attended from the City's Health Department, Roger Kintz, DTSC and a local enforcement manager attended.

Dust from Candlestick Park was the featured agenda item and John Marvin, BAAQMD Enforcement Manager presented. He supervises Dick Rodriguez, the inspector assigned to the neighborhood overseeing construction sites. He's the one who comes with EPA to many Shipyard inspections. John Marvin explained the BAAQMD regulatory role and inspection activities. Community members repeated their concerns from before. For example, the community members are concerned that the current monitoring locations close to the actual worksite do not capture information about dust that could be blown by swirling wind patterns up the hill from Candlestick Park. In addition, the residents want standards based on moisture content of sprayed soil and they want "stop work" to be automatic above certain wind speeds. The BAAQMD manager explained that their regulations do not use those measures. BAAQMD and the City committed to scheduling a meeting with the community to discuss the concerns regarding inadequacy of existing regulations. Karen Cohen committed to work with the EJ Task Force to set up a meeting with the City's building inspection office. BAAQMD did not share with the taskforce that they submitted a Notice of Violation to Lennar regarding dust activities at Candlestick. When asked after the meeting, he said he forgot to mention it.

The SFPUC representative reported back on two leaks from its Southeast sewage treatment plant that had caused odor complaints this summer. They committed to fixing the leaks.

Recology representative reported back on efforts to control odors and other nuisance problems related to its facility in Little Hollywood neighborhood and announced they will have another community meeting in October. Other assorted complaints came in, not related to the Navy Shipyard.
